Organisational account

In order for you to apply, your Swedish university or higher education institution (HEI) must have been approved as an administrative organisation and must have opened an organisational account in Prisma. These are listed as choices in Prisma. You can then select your HEI as an administrative organisation and project site. If your Swedish university or HEI is missing as a choice in Prisma, please contact the university or HEI. After the call has closed, your application will automatically be sent to your administrative organisation. The administrative organisation must distribute the application to an authorized representative who must sign the application within 7 days.

Opening a personal account in Prisma

Before beginning an application you must open a personal account in Prisma where your information, such as personal data, CV and publications, is saved. With a personal account, you only have to enter the information once, and it may then be supplemented or edited as needed. The applications you register in Prisma are then linked to your account. Remember to open your personal account in good time before the deadline.

Participating researchers

Participating researchers must also open personal accounts in Prisma (including their CV and the publications they want to use in the application) and agree to his or her participation in the project before the final application day. Encourage your colleagues to open an account in Prisma in good time.

User manual for Prisma

There are user manuals in Prisma describing most of the required steps. We encourage you to consult these when writing your application.

SWAMID and ORCID

If your employer is affiliated to SWAMID you may use the same log in information in Prisma as used at your work place.

In order to open an account in Prisma you will need a so-called ORCID-id. ORCID is an international registry for researchers and is mandatory in Prisma. If you have not yet registered for a researcher-id you may do so on the ORCID website.
